Draft presented by the Bureau of the Commission	Language Proposal Ecumenical Women
1. The Commission on the Status of Women reaffirms the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action, which emphasized the need for political commitment to make available human and financial resources for the empowerment of women and that funding had to be identified and mobilized from all sources and across all sectors to achieve the goals of gender equality and the empowerment of women, (Based on Platform for Action, para. 345) and the outcome of the twenty-third special session of the General Assembly, which called upon Governments to incorporate a gender perspective into the design, development, adoption and execution of all budgetary processes, as appropriate, in order to promote equitable and effective resource allocation and establish adequate budgetary allocations to support gender equality and development programmes that enhance women's empowerment. (Resolution S-23/3, annex, para 73(b)).	Ibid.
2. The Commission acknowledges that national machineries are necessary for the	Ibid.

implementation of the Beijing Platform for Action; and that for national machineries to be effective, clear mandates, location at the highest possible level, accountability mechanisms, partnership with civil society, a transparent political process, adequate financial and human resources and continued strong political commitment are crucial. (CSW Agreed conclusions 1999/II, para. 4)
3. The Commission recalls that the Platform for Action recognized the roles of United Nations funds, programmes and specialized agencies in the promotion of the empowerment of women, and therefore in the implementation of the Platform for Action within their respective mandates, and noted that the resources provided by the international community needed to be sufficient and should be maintained at an adequate level. (Based on Platform for Action, para. 360)	Ibid.
4. The Commission recognizes the importance of non-governmental organizations, as well as other civil society actors, in advancing the implementation of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action. (Based on ECOSOC 2006/9)	Ibid.
5. The Commission recalls the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women and the Option Protocol and draws attention to the work of the Committee towards the practical realization of the principle of equality between women and men. (Based on CEDAW article 2(a))	Ibid.
6. The Commission recalls the outcome of the International Conference on Financing for Development in 2002, which emphasizes the importance of a holistic approach to the interconnected national, international and systemic challenges of financing for development – sustainable, gender-sensitive, people-centered development. (Based on A/CONF.198/11,	Ibid.

chapter 1, resolution 1, annex, paragraph 8)
7. The Commission also recalls the 2005 World Summit, which reaffirmed that the full and effective implementation of the goals, and objectives of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action and the outcome of the twenty-third special session of the General Assembly is an essential contribution to achieving the internationally agreed development goals, including those contained in Millennium Declaration. (A/RES/60/1, para. 58)	7. The Commission also recalls the 2005 World Summit, which reaffirmed that the full and effective implementation of the goals, and objectives of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action and the outcome of the twenty-third special session of the General Assembly is an essential contribution to achieving the internationally agreed development goals, including those contained in Millennium Declaration. (A/RES/60/1, para. 58) And also recognized the importance of gender mainstreaming as a tool for achieving gender equality and to that end the need to promote the mainstreaming of a gender perspective in the design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of policies and programmes in all political, economic and social spheres, and to strengthen the capabilities of the United Nations system in the area of gender. (A/RES/60/1, para 59)
8. The Commission reaffirms the declaration adopted on the occasion of the tenth anniversary of the Fourth World Conference on Women, which stressed that challenges and obstacles remained in the implementation of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action and the outcome documents of the twenty-third special session of the General Assembly, and pledged to undertake further action to ensure their full and accelerated implementation. (Based on para. 2 of the CSW Declaration, see ECOSOC decision 2005/232 contained in document E/2005/99)	Ibid.
9. The Commission is concerned that, despite a growing body of evidence demonstrating that investing in women and girls has a multiplier effect on productivity, efficiency and sustained economic growth, and despite the calls for gender	Ibid.

mainstreaming in economic and public finance processes, adequate resources have not been systematically allocated, and that monitoring and reporting on resource allocation remain insufficient in all areas. (Based on E/CN.6/2008/2, para. 14, 83 and 87)
10. The Commission is also concerned that insufficient budgetary resources continue to undermine the effectiveness and sustainability of both national mechanisms for the advancement of women and women’s organizations in advocating for, supporting and monitoring the implementation of the Beijing Platform for Action. (E.CN.6/2008/2, para. 86)	10. The Commission is also concerned that insufficient budgetary resources continue to undermine the effectiveness and sustainability of both national mechanisms for the advancement of women and women’s organizations in advocating for, supporting and monitoring the implementation of the Beijing Platform for Action. (E.CN.6/2008/2, para. 86) The Commission is further concerned that there is a serious under-resourcing of the gender-specific bodies, the Office of the Special Adviser on Gender Issues and Advancement of Women, the Division for Advancement of Women, UNIFEM and INSTRAW. (E.CN.6/2008/2, para 80)
	11. The Commission is further concerned that there are a number of global factors that have had an adverse impact on financing for gender equality, among them: economic growth patterns that increase inequalities between and within countries, trade and financial liberalization, privatization of public services and enterprises, and the international security agenda.
11. The Commission urges Governments, the United Nations system, and invites the Bretton Woods Institutions, international and regional organizations, non-governmental organizations, as well as other civil society actors, including the private sector, as appropriate, to take the following actions:	12.
